

where are the next world championships?

ChatGPT

As of my last knowledge update in September 2021, the upcoming World Bridge Championships were scheduled to take place in 2022. However, I do not have specific information about the location or dates for those championships as they were not announced at that time.

To find the most current information on upcoming World Bridge Championships, I recommend visiting the official website of the World Bridge Federation (WBF) or contacting the WBF directly. Their website should provide you with the latest updates on future championships, including the location, dates, and other relevant details.